

APPLICATIONS FOR 2022

MHSC in Clinical Psychology North-West University Mahikeng Campus

The above degree covers the broad spectrum of Clinical Psychology. It includes a wide variety of therapeutic approaches and counselling procedures, as well as courses in neuro-anatomy, neuropsychology, differential diagnosis, adult, child and adolescent pathology and therapy, and other professional and practice-orientated workshops. This course is offered only on a full-time basis. During the first year of study a research proposal, two case studies, four written papers and an oral exam are completed. Practical work during the first year includes observations at the Bophelong Psychiatric Hospital and Mafikeng Provincial Hospital, work at various community sites, the Phelophepa Train, schools, psychometric evaluations, individual psychotherapy with all age groups, and the various facets of clinical work. Training is provided through lectures, workshops and demonstrations. After completion of the theoretical and practical part of the course, a dissertation in article or book format is required. A full-time internship (one year) is done after completing the coursework, and board exams are written after completing the research and dissertation. You must apply separately for the internship and board exam. Thereafter only the clinical psychology students have to complete one year of community service.

Only candidates who achieved an average of at least 65% in the honours-degree examination will be considered for paper selection. Thereafter a comprehensive selection process follows, after which approximately six students for M-Clinical and are selected from all applications.
